REVERSE IN DOBRUDJA

Bucharest and Sofia Concur in Report of Rumanian Successes in the Southwest

BY ED L. KEEN

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Apparently halted in his invasion of eastern Rumania, Field Marshal Mackensen has shifted his attack and is attempting to carry the war into King Ferdinand's country by a stroke from the northwest.

The German war office Thursday afternoon announced that the Austro-Germans have won victories on both sides of the Vulcan mountain pass, one of the gateways on the Rumanian northwestern frontier, after driving the Rumanians back ten miles. The Rumanian war office admitted a retreat in this region but declared the Rumanians have halted and are defending themselves behind a new fortified line.

The Bulgarian war office has admitted the defeat of German and Bulgarian attempts to penetrate the new Russo-Rumanian front in the new Dobruja. The Rumanian war office not only reported the repulse of all Teutonic attacks, but declared that the Russians and Rumanians are now attacking on the whole front.

Rumanians on Offensive BUCHAREST, Sept. 21.—Rumanian troops have taken the initiative on the whole Dobruja front after repulsing German and Bulgarian attacks and are now counter attacking.
It was officially announced Thursday.

Bulgarian Report
SOFIA, Sept. 21.—The Russo-Ru-manians are maintaining their strongly fortified positions in the Dobrudja in the face of heavy Bulgarian attacks. It was officially admitted Thursday.

The battle is increasing in violence.
Both sides are fighting with the greatest stubbornness.

AUSTRALIA WOMEN TO GO TO POLLS ON CONSCRIPTION

MELBOURNE, Sept. 21.—Wives and mothers of Australia will go to the polls within a few weeks to decide whether or not they shall send their husbands and sons to war. It is probably the first time in the history of the world that the women of any large country have been permitted to make such a choice.

The house of representatives by a vote of 47 to 12 passed a bill on Thursday calling for a referendum on the question of conscription. It is considered certain that the bill will pass the senate.

Women's votes probably will decide whether the conscription measure, strongly advocated by Premier Hughes, will be approved at the referendum. It is the general belief that it will. Thousands of women with relatives already at the front are certain to vote their approval.

HENRY FORD, UNKNOWN, SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 21.—
"Henry Ford, address unknown," is the progressive candidate for senator from Michigan.

A toss of a coin by Secretary of State Vaughn gave Ford the nomination. In the primary results he was tied with Henry M. Wallace for the senatorial nomination, each receiving two votes.

In Vaughn's official certification of the nomination to county clerks, the address was listed "unknown," because the state secretary, legally, does not know whether Henry Ford of Detroit or some one else by the same name has been nominated.

Hair Cut Cost
Soars a Dime
Starting Monday

You've got just one day, not counting Saturday and Sunday, in which to get those straggly locks clipped for the old price of twenty-five cents.

On Monday morning every barber shop in La Crosse, with one exception, will charge thirty-five cents for hair cuts. The increase will be permanent. It was decided at a recent meeting of all local barbers. Storch Brothers, Fourth and Pearl streets, will stick to the old price of twenty cents. They withheld their reason on Thursday for refusal to sign up with the rest of the barbers.

High cost of living, advanced prices for material, and higher wages of barbers, are given as their reasons for the raise in price.

CROCKER HEIRESS WOULD DIVORCE ALLEGED FAITHLESS PRINCE-HUBBY

Court; Prince Miskinoff

The marital troubles of Mrs. Almee Crocker-Gouraud-Miskinoff, heiress to the Crocker millions, and Prince Alexander Miskinoff, have reached the courts again. This time she has filed suit for divorce in New York, and charges that her husband, whose present whereabouts is unknown, has been too friendly with another woman. A leading witness in the case is Yvonne Gouraud, an adopted daughter of the heiress.

FIGHTING PARSON OF UNIVERSALIST CHURCH RESIGNS

Chaplain Longbrake of Shooting Third Gives Up the Local Pastorate

IN THE CITY SIX YEARS

Work During Pastorate Has Extended Over Wide Field Beyond Church
Duties

The resignation of Captain George R. Longbrake, chaplain of the Third regiment, Wisconsin brigade, was accepted by St. Paul's Universalist church at a meeting Wednesday night. It will take effect January 1.

Resigned at Call Chaplain Longbrake, when he answered the call of the president in June, left his resignation with the church officers. It was written to take effect October 1, the end of his pastoral year, but the church did not act upon it at that time, hoping that the pastor would return from the border before the time elapsed. The congregation at large did not know of the resignation, and when it was read Wednesday evening general surprise and regret resulted.

Captain Longbrake took charge of St. Paul's church six years ago, coming to this city from New Hartford, Wis. During his stay in La Crosse, he has been one of the most energetic of the local clergymen. His work has extended over a wide field outside of his pastoral duties, and in the church itself his record has been one of accomplishment.

Rev. Longbrake has always been interested in things military. His interest dating from '98, when he served as an enlisted man with a regiment of Indiana volunteers. He saw active service, including one sharp fight, in Porto Rico. In La Crosse, he was an active member of the United Spanish War veterans, and he welcomed the appointment as chaplain of the Shooting Third when it was offered to him three years ago, at the resignation of Rev. Charles Butters of Viroqua.

Elks' State Chaplain Rev. Longbrake was one of the incorporators of the Associated Charities, and for years had been an active member of the Humane society here.
He has been state chaplain of the local Elks' lodge. He was one of the founders of the Open Forum, and his church has been the meeting place of that society.

Included in the accomplishments of Captain Longbrake's pastorate is the organization of a boy's club in the parish, a society which now numbers some forty members. Through the efforts of the pastor the basement of the church was remodeled into a gymnasium and club room for the boys. The Universalist parsonage, also, is a direct result of Rev. Long-brake's energetic and businesslike conduct of the affairs of the church.

Three hundred Bulgarian corpses piled in a heap in one ravine, were stripped of their flesh by jackals and lynxes at night and by thousands of crows and vultures that hovered over the fighting ground in the day time.
The dead Bulgarians had been
mowed down in a machine gun attack and lay between the Serbian and Bulgarian lines. When the Serbs advanced they found only skeletons and bits of torn uniforms.

PERSHING FORCES
NOT TO LEAVE NOW COMMISSION SAYS

Tentative Program for Border Patrol Virtually Completed; De Facto to Assume Part of Work

SUCCESS — WITHDRAWAL

Plan Expected to Be in Shape in Week for Presentation to Washington and Mexico City

BY CARL D. GROAT
NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 21.— The Mexican-American commission has about finished its first task—that of settling the problem of border patrol.

A tentative program for border patrol was practically completed on Thursday. It provides that General Pershing's forces shall remain where they are for the present. There is an additional proviso by which the Carranza forces will take over a liberal share of the work of protecting the border, but its exact form has not been revealed.

The United Press received positive assurance that the plan contains no recommendation for an immediate withdrawal.

"The situation remains as it is for the present," it was stated.
The entire plan is being submitted to General Bliss for his approval.
Some recamping for military reasons may suggest itself to Bliss. It is possible the whole plan will be in shape by Saturday, but more probable that it will require another week before it is submitted to Washington and Mexico City for approval.
If the scheme succeeds and Carranza forces are found adequate, then withdrawal of American troops will be accomplished later.

Villa's activities around Chihuahua will not vitally affect the situation.

Vulturous Beasts
Feast On Bodies
Of Balkan Dead

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Jackals and hyenas, creeping down from the mountains along the Serbo-Greek frontier, are feasting on the bodies of Bulgarian and Serbian soldiers slain in fierce fighting northeast of Lake Ostrovo.

Three hundred Bulgarian corpses
piled in a heap in one ravine, were
crows and vultures that hovered over
the fighting ground in the day time.
The dead Bulgarians had been
mowed down in a machine gun at-

FREAK ROBBERY
PUZZLES POLICE

Olaus Olson Wakes from Nap to Find Antic Prowler Has Ransacked Pantry Bank

PUT WALLET IN TRUNK

More Money Than Was Taken Flung Aside to Make Away with Small Alcohol Bottle

If you were a robber, would you ransack a wallet, and then pack it in a trunk in a room where your victim was sleeping?
Take $12 in silver from a shelf, put it on a shelf beneath and go away without it?
Drop a silver dollar on the floor and leave it?
Toss a pocket-book containing $7.50 under the table and forget it?
Take a fifteen-cent bottle of alcohol?

That is what a mysterious houseprowler did Wednesday afternoon at the home of Olaus Olson, 2205 Market street, according to the tale Olson told the police after he discovered the theft. The case presents what the police say are the most peculiar circumstances of any case of recent months.

Olson came home about three o'clock in the afternoon after making purchases at a drug store. He went to bed for a nap. When he awoke at 6 o'clock he found that someone had been prowling in the pantry, and that $12 in paper money was missing, with the wallet containing receipts and other papers, from a shelf.

Olson called the police, and when they arrived he unfolded to them the tale of the mystifying discoveries mentioned above. He had found his wallet, with the money gone but the papers untouched, packed away in his trunk, in the room where he had been sleeping. Twelve silver dollars, wrapped in a cloth, had been moved from the shelf where the wallet had been to the one beneath. His purse, untouched, was flung under a table. A silver dollar lay on the floor of the kitchen. A bottle of alcohol was gone.

The police investigating had revealed nothing to explain the freak robbery at noon Friday.

CHICAGO MAY ENTER

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The city of Chicago may go into the telephone business as the result of the refusal of Attorney General Gregory in Washington to authorize the Chicago Telephone company to absorb the Automatic Telephone company.

Advocates of city control of the automatic system say that under the franchise of the automatic, all the phone equipment stations, wires, poles, etc., of the Automatic company are now the property of the city of Chicago and all that is required will be for the council to pass a forfeiture ordinance.

Bulgars Peril Russ Supply Lines

This map shows how the Bulgar-Germans, advancing into the interior of the Dobruja territory of Rumania, have imperilled the supply source of the Russian armies operating with the Rumanians. The Rumanians and Russians, in their fifty-mile retreat last week, made a stand near the railroad running from Constantza, where supplies for the Russians are loaded. Should the railroad be taken by the invaders, the Russians would be cut off from their base of supplies. They are fighting desperately to hold the line.

German lines northeast of Verdun Wednesday night, capturing two trenches and 100 prisoners south of Thiaumont and advancing 100 yards in Vaux Chapite wood, it was officially announced Thursday.

The Germans made no new counter attacks on the Somme front, bad weather hindering operations. In the Argonne a German attack near Four-De-Paris failed.

BURNS RECEIVED IN BLAZING BED
ENDS MAN'S LIFE

Harry Fries Dies at Hospital as Result of Smoking
After Retiring

Harry Fries, the 35-year-old farmer of La Farge, Wis., who went to bed at the Hotel Grand Tuesday night with a burning cigarette, died at St. Francis hospital at about 6 o'clock Thursday morning from burns received when his bed caught fire.

Fries was found insensible when a Hotel Grand clerk broke down the door to his room. His legs and hips and one hand were badly burned.
Fries regained consciousness Wednesday. He was in intense pain, later relapsed into unconsciousness and died.

Fries' young wife was notified, and arrived at the hospital shortly after the death came to her husband.
J. C. Fries, his father, a resident of Richland Center, was expected to reach La Crosse some time Thursday.
The body will either be taken to Richland Center or La Farge for burial.

AGED VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES
SOON AFTER CHIEF

William Rossiter Answers Last Roll Call Few Weeks After Death of His Old Captain

SERVED THROUGH WAR

Discharged in 1864 He Re-enlisted and Served Until End of the Hostilities

This morning at 9:15 one more veteran of the Civil War William Rossiter, 333 North Eleventh street, answered the roll-call with his comrades who have died before him.
His death follows closely upon that of the captain of his regiment, Co. H, Zephraim Blakeslee, who preceded him by only a few weeks.

Mr. Rossiter was almost 81 years of age, having been born on Prince Edward's Island in October, 1835.
He moved with his parents to Green Bay, Wis., in 1859, and two years later proved devotion to his adopted country by enlisting on Oct. 30, 1861 in the 12th Wisconsin Infantry.

Served During Entire War
He served during the entire war.
After having received an honorable discharge at Natchez, Miss., in January, 1864, he at once re-enlisted and served until he received his final discharge as Sergeant of Company H, on July 18, 1865.

He took part in all the important engagements of his regiment. He was with Grant in the Northern Mississippi campaign of 1862. In 1864 he shared in the Meridian Expedition and the sieges of Vicksburg and Savannah, and made the march with Sherman to the sea. He had part in the taking of Atlanta and the pursuit of General Hood after the evacuation of that city.

On the discharge of his regiment he returned to Wisconsin where he identified himself with the work of building railroads and otherwise developing the then young state. He was associated with the late D. J.
Cameron in the building of the Southern Minnesota. Later, with his brother, Lemuel Rossiter, and Mr. Cameron he assisted in the building of the first railroads in Oklahoma. For ten years he was bridge builder for the Green Bay and Western until he retired from active life in 1903.

He was married in 1870 to Miss Nellie Shay of Hokah, Minn., and in 1871 they moved to La Crosse where they since have resided. Four children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Rossiter. Two of these, Charles and Louise, died in infancy. The other two, William Rossiter, of the National Bank of this city and a daughter, Mrs. Frank W. Condon of 2703 Blaisdell Avenue, Minneapolis, as well as his widow and a sister, Mrs. D. J. Cameron, survive him.

In losing Mr. Rossiter, La Crosse has lost a true citizen and the country a real patriot. All those associated with him testify to his qualities of sterling character, upright honesty, and Christian spirit.

Mrs. Rossiter was a member of the G. A. R. and of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church at 9 a. m. Saturday. Interment will be at St. Joseph's Ridge cemetery.

ALLIED GAIN MADE TOWARD HILL 1550; BULGARS VICIOUS

Village of Boresnica Entered by Bulgars, Who Are Repulsed, Paris Claims

COOL WEATHER STIMULUS

Troops Which at First Fought at Night Because of Torridity, Now Battle in the Sunlight

PARIS, Sept. 21.—French forces operating on the allied left wing in the Balkans have advanced nearly three miles toward Hill 1550, taking fifty prisoners, it was officially announced Thursday.

The French gain was made southwest of Monastir near the frontier.
The Bulgarians are delivering the most vicious counter attacks against the advancing Serbs. At one stage of the battle Bulgarian troops entered the village of Boresnica but were finally driven out by the Serbs in violent fighting.

East of the Cerna river the Bulgars made a strong counter attack against Kamakchalan mountain, captured by the Serbs early this week, but were driven off.

Cool Weather Aids Fight
LONDON, Sept. 21.—Cooler weather is aiding in the operations along the Balkan front and is partly accountable for the furious fighting now going on between Serbs and Bulgars.

Late in August when the allies first began hammering the Bulgarian lines the heat in the daytime was so intense that even British and French troops hardened at Gallipoli suffered and a large part of the fighting was done at night. In the recent operations the Serbs have been attacking day and night with battles going on for forty-eight hours without cessation.

Viglitza Evacuated
The Bulgars are still clinging to stretches of Greek territory on the left wing of the allies, though they have evacuated Viglitza, in extreme northwestern Macedonia.

The progress of the battle being waged in eastern Rumania is still in doubt. Both the Rumanian and Bulgarian war offices are claiming big victories.

"Flying Whales" Are New 'Planes
Of The Germans

WITH GENERAL VON LINSING-EN'S ARMIES ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT, August 20.—(By Mail.)— Germany has added flying whales to her other war wonders of the air.

A hundred yards away these new aeroplanes look like giant fish with double fins which have flopped out of water and lie stranded on their bellies on the sand. They have four big eyes on each side.

High in the air they look like the flying fish one sees on the ocean, many times magnified.

The wings are those of the ordinary aeroplanes but the body is shaped like that of a fish. The motor is enclosed in the head and at the sides where the eyes would be were two windows. The operator or observer can look out from the fish's back or from the sides through the eyes.

(The censor's scissors has deleted a paragraph of the dispatch at this point, possibly carrying more details of the aeroplane's construction.)

These flying whales have greater speed, more bomb carrying capacity and quicker action than any other biplanes in Europe, officers at the German aviation camp told me.

BAPTISTS TO APPEAL AGAINST ORDER OPPOSING REVIVALS FOR SOLDIERS

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 21.—The Baptists of Texas will appeal to administration officials at Washington to set aside an alleged order of General Funston against conducting religious revivals among the troops on the border. This announcement was made Wednesday by Dr. J. B. Gambrell, corresponding secretary of the General Baptist convention of Texas, who has just returned from San Antonio. "I talked with Colonel Barnum, the chief of staff," said Dr.
Gambrell. "He went in to see General Funston and talked to him about two minutes, then he came out with the announcement that we could preach among the soldiers if we did not hold revivals or tell the men they were lost without professing Christ." "I asked him why the general was opposed to revivals. He said it would work the men up and that many of them were emotional."

Directory of Local Members Of Red Cross

Following is a directory of the membership of the La Crosse Chapter of the American Red Cross society. If any names are omitted they will be inserted upon application to Sam A. Anderson, chairman, the State Bank of La Crosse, or Miss Helen Dorest.

The membership campaign is unfinished, and there is still great need of extension. Starting with but 27,000, the organization has now passed the 250,000 mark, with the period up to December first in which to attain the 1,000,000 goal.

La Crosse now leads both in the per capita membership and per capita increase, and has an excellent chance to win one of the prizes. Civic pride, as well as the opportunity for service in both war and peace, bids La Crosse people to help establish a proud municipal record.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat, also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them. Rush on the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

COURSE IN FOREIGN SERVICE TRAINING BY "U" EXTENTION

Increasing the Field Through Foreign Trade Suggests the Need of Such a Course

During the coming winter the extension division of the University of Wisconsin will give special courses intended to train men for foreign service. The increase of the foreign trade of the United States during the last few years has created a demand for men with business training who can speak one or more foreign languages.

To provide for such training classes in commercial German and commercial Spanish will be started immediately. The work will be devoted to the commercial language and forms actually used in the foreign fields.

Anyone with a good business training or who has had experience in actual business will be permitted to take up the work. The classes will be held once or twice a week at the Longfellow school from 7 to 9 in the evening. The work will be in charge of a university instructor.

WEST SALEM, Wis.—(Special.)—A double birthday party was given by Mrs. George McDonald last Friday evening in honor of her daughter, Miss Bernice, and Miss Margaret Upham. The occasion celebrated the seventeenth year of Miss Bernice and the eighteenth year of Miss Margaret.

The McDonald home was decorated with high school colors, orange and black, and the guests, numbering about fifty, were members of the junior and senior high school classes, and some of the faculty.

At 10 o'clock the company sat down to a birthday feast, and when the large double birthday cake with its full quota of candles was brought in there was much merriment over the wishing and blowing. At a late hour the guests repaired to their homes voting Mr. and Mrs. McDonald the ideal host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin McElowney took an auto trip yesterday to Cashton and return.

Clayton Viets, business man of Wichita, Kansas, who has been spending a part of the summer here, has returned to Wichita, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Harold Nealeigh, and his little grandson, Master Harold Nealeigh, Jr.

Mrs. Viets remained in West Salem for a week or two longer and will spend the time between the homes of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Asplin, in La Crosse, and those of friends and relatives here.

Mr. Viets retains his former residence in this village, all furnished and waiting for his annual summer visit to the old town and the many friends.

Weather Conditions

The pressure continues high over the Atlantic and east gulf states and the weather fair and moderately cool.
The storm is central this morning in the Lake Superior district and the western high has advanced into the northern Rocky mountain districts.
These pressure movements have caused showers and local thunderstorms in the lake region, central states and upper Mississippi valley and lower temperature from the Rocky mountain districts to the upper Mississippi valley, with fair weather.

The continued easterly drift of these pressure conditions will cause fair weather in this section tonight and Friday, with somewhat lower temperature Friday.

The Searchlight

TELEGRAPHING BY TELEPHONE

A new telegraph instrument has been invented by means of which any telegraph operator may send messages in the Morse code over an ordinary telephone. This instrument can be attached to any telephone and the connection between it is purely mechanical. It does not require any additional electric circuit. The telegraph key has a pivot at the end. It produces a sharp distinct sound and is connected with the metal base of the telephone by two clamps. It is claimed that Morse signals sent by this instrument carry longer distances than the human voice over long distance telephone, so the telephone-telegraph can be of great value both in supplementary and in verifying telephonic conversation.

Engaged

Young George sat on the top rail of a fence kicking his heels against a lower rail. Along came young Henry.

"Let's go down to the creek and have a swim," suggested Henry.
"Can't," said George. "I've been put here to mind Aunt Sally's and Aunt Hattie's children."

Henry looked around wonderingly.
There were no children in sight.
"Where are they?" he asked.
"Blamed if I know," said George.

A SUBJECT FOR PUBLIC INQUIRY

The Murphy case is a fair subject for public discussion. It isn't a matter merely for interpretation, it is a matter of fact. But since only Murphy and Sheriff Ritter know the exact length, breadth and thickness of the affair, and since the sheriff declines to discuss it, the public has a right to speculate.

Murphy was serving a sentence. He was liable to further criminal prosecution. Sheriff Ritter reported to the district attorney that Murphy was very ill. He said Murphy had lost a washbasin full of blood as a result of a single hemorrhage. He says the county physician was called, but not at that time. Dr. Flynn does not recall Murphy, but the district attorney corroborates Ritter by saying that Dr. Flynn told him Murphy was in bad condition. Ritter suggested to the district attorney that Murphy should be released.

Later Ritter liberated Murphy. He says the district attorney authorized this. Undersheriff Weber corroborates Ritter on this point. That is immaterial, as only the court that sentenced him could legally release Murphy. However, the fact that he consulted the district attorney carries a suggestion of good faith that is valuable to Ritter.

Upon releasing Murphy, Ritter gave his (Ritter's) personal check to the district attorney to be used in paying the people Murphy had defrauded. The district attorney says Ritter explained he found the money in Murphy's clothing. Chief of Police Webber says Murphy was searched before going to jail.

Shortly after Murphy's release Ritter appeared driving an automobile that had belonged to Murphy. He is quoted as having explained that he got it at Sullivan, a town several hundred miles distant from La Crosse, by paying the garage charges against it. The bill was about $100.

Now the people who elected Mr. Ritter to the office of sheriff, and who are paying him for his services, have a perfect right to inquire about this transaction.

Who authorized the sheriff to take Murphy's car upon payment of the charges against it? How much is the car worth? If Murphy authorized the sheriff to so procure the car, was it before or after Murphy's release?

Why did not Ritter call the county physician when Murphy had the hemorrhage which was one cause of his release?

The situation bristles with questions. No doubt Mr. Ritter can answer them. But let no one question the right of any citizen to ask them, or the duty of the duly constituted officials to investigate.

THE FEELING
FOR HUGHES

Analysis of political feeling as the presidential campaign has thus far developed it is most interesting because largely it follows lines new to experience.

There is considerable Hughes sentiment, the bulk of which exists despite the fact that Hughes' campaign utterances have failed to impress the country. Those who entertain it forgive the lack of conviction in Hughes' arguments because they realize the difficulty of assailing a president who has weathered an international storm.

The attitude of these Hughes supporters is to ignore present and unusual conditions, and to base their views upon normal conditions. While his life has been lived in the north, they regard Wilson somewhat as an alien, from the "solid south", and this despite the fact that Wilson has drifted farther from "states' rights" and kindred doctrine than any other democratic leader, farther than his party is willing to follow him. They are the broad general doctrines of republicanism, which these men associate with prosperity, and which they regard as antithetical to democratic policies, which lead them to disregard the merits of an emergency administration which most of them do not wholly disapprove and which many of them regard as, in the main, praiseworthy.

Who are these Hughes men?

They are the men who represent business. Not "big business", but general, average business. They are the run of men who have their own establishments. Most of them are rated from $1,000 to $100,000. They want to make money during the next few years and they believe that the character of national administration has much to do with the extent of the opportunity that awaits them.

SNEEZE THE ANSWER

Why an allwise Providence sent Jack Frost to nip the flowers that might have lived to make more beautiful the glorious September-October period, is a question so obvious that one hazards inquiry without a sense of impertinence. They were never more charming than this year—the garden flowers of La Crosse. They made gay the boulevards and home-grounds of the city, and the house-beautiful was filled with luminous bouquets. Why, O Nature, this untimely despoliation of Thine Own handiwork?

Comes the answer—Dr. Evans, Andy Lees, Dr. McGovern, Fred Leahy and scores of other highly cultivated, sensitive and susceptible gentlemen.

With the rose-blume died the nose-blume—the last glad rites have been intoned over Hay Fever.

Out of the Mouths of Kids

Over the garden fence the conversation had suddenly turned acrimonious.

"An' if you're boy, 'Erbert, ties any cants to my pore dog's tail," was Mrs. Morgins' stern ultimatum. "I'll ear about it, that's all. 'Oh, an' per'aps you've done with that saucenpot wot you borrowed last Monday."

"'Erbert," asked Mrs. Grubb shrilly, "wot have you an doin' to Mrs. Morgins' dog?"

"'Nothin' ma'," replied the small boy unflinchingly.

"There!" said his mother triumphantly. "An' you returned 'er saucenpot yesterday, didn't you, dearie?"

"Sent it back by er dog!" said 'Erbert calmly.

Little Leaks

Seen the Ne'er-do-well? Plenty of action, eh? But in books action often runs away from art.

About the time the fellows are thawed out enough to turn on the steam heat, Old Sol comes back on the job again.

Good Prospects

Two friends met the other day after an absence of some months.

"What are you doing now?" inquired Bill.

"Working in a poyder factory."

"Good job, is it?"

"Well, 22 shillings a week and prospects."

"What sort of prospects?"

"Of getting a 'rise at any minute."

Mrs. Nora Mulvaney met her old friend, Mrs. Bridget Carr, carrying in her arms her twelfth child.

"Arrah, now, Bridget," said Nora, "an' there ye are wid another little Carr in yer arms."

"Another it is, Mrs. Mulvaney," replied her friend, "an' I'm hopin' 'tis the caboose."

DAILY

HOT SPRINGS

There is no more general and less definitely locating title for a town than "Hot Springs." At the mention of the name everybody thinks of a different town; some people think of two or three of them. The Hot Springs in the Black Hills of Dakota are most picturesque.

The government has put a sanitarium at Hot Springs, thereby following the example of the old Indian possessors of the therapeutic waters, who used to repair thither that their rheumatic warriors and others of the afflicted might lave their aching limbs. The Indians valued the springs highly; and the Sioux and the Cheyennes went so far as to fight a war about them, or at least so the story goes. The Sioux and the Cheyennes were warring liberally for many years, and it seems plausible that they should fall out over a disputed hot spring. There seems less basis for the rest of the tale, which would attribute much of the subsequent downfall of the defeated Cheyennes to the ravages of rheumatism.

The dead past has buried its dead by now, however, and it would be useless to disinter the ghosts of vanished warriors and inquire into the truth of the matter at this late date. What is left of the Indians still come to the spring, where they camp near the modern bungalow of the paleface and no doubt think sadly of the days when they had a monopoly of the water supply. A relic of their vanished greatness still remains in the shape of a monolithic bathtub carved out of red sandstone, a mute reproach to those who said in the early days that the Indian used water for drinking purposes only.

As for the modern city of Hot Springs, it is much what you would expect it to be. Eastern ladies speak of it as a bit of the old frontier, which to a westerner is description enough. It is a progressive little city where the ponies have stopped shying at the Ford's; and only the sacred Black Hills of the Sioux with their purple haze at evening remain to remind the real old timer of the days that were.

Short Story

BACK TO THE SOIL

BY SUSAN E. CLAGETT

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"It cannot be done."

The speaker was one of three young men, and his tone was emphatic. The girl in the group leaned forward, regarding him with earnest eyes.

"Why not?" she asked.

"Lack of money and experience," he answered promptly. "We are office men. We know nothing of country life. The office is our living. We cannot give up an assured income for the promise of one, especially when the promise requires expenditure. The house is barely inhabitable. To make it livable, would require more money than can be spared."

The girl's glance swept the tiny sitting room, rested for an instant upon the figure leaning against the doorway, then came back to her elder brother.

"I think, Jack, that I could make it home if the roof doesn't leak. The place is ours. The rent of this apartment would help, and we could have roses and clove pinks and violets."

"Hear her," Bob interrupted. "Can we eat roses and clove pinks, and violets?"

"I confess to a desire for a more material diet."

The girl laughed. "They are only the trills. Bob, but I am always dreaming of them and of green grass with white clover sprinkled through it and the blessed sunshine coming through the trees. Grandfather may not have made money there, but he did make a comfortable living. Why couldn't we?"

Her brothers stared. That Jane should say she dreamed of things showed a condition of mind unsuspected by either. She was always happy. She made them comfortable, made the best of a limited income, and never complained of its limitations, but both shook their heads.

"It can't be done," Jack reiterated.

"Jane is right," came from a pleasant voice in the doorway. "If you two dunderheads would listen to her. You might not be able to make any amount of money, but do you do more now? You just about meet expenses, with a little stowed away for emergencies. Out there you would have no house rent. You could have many things that are now luxuries. There would be no inconveniences, and commuting is not pleasant, but try it for Jane's sake. She needs the sunshine and grass and clove pinks and roses if the roses ever bloom in her cheeks again. She has never recovered her strength since that attack of pneumonia, although she says nothing."

Jane had turned a smiling face to him as he began to speak, but shook her head as he finished.

"Honest, Jane, don't you feel tired out all of the time?"

"Sometimes," she admitted reluctantly.

"That should settle it," John Gray said. "However, if you will hesitate I should like to rent the land of you and see what I can do with it. My car is at the door. Pick in and we will run out to the place and see if the plan isn't feasible."

The two men scarcely heard. They were looking at their sister through the eyes of their friend. To their dismay they realized that he had spoken the truth and with grave faces they followed him to the car.

An hour later they stood before the story-and-a-half house viewing it critically as a possible home. It had been sadly neglected. Tall weeds grew up to the doorway, window blinds sagged and slats were gone from them; the porch was in a tumble-down condition, but to offset the general dilapidation were great clumps of lilacs and snowballs and crocus orange just bursting into bud that would be a mass of beauty a few weeks later on. The place had untold possibilities and John Gray glanced down at the girl beside him wondering if the thought in his mind could be in hers, but the eyes she raised to his were clear and he turned away rather than let her read what he felt was written upon his face.

They entered the large living room from the porch. In it and the one on the opposite side of the house were huge fireplaces, and as John Gray looked about he said:

"If you people will take mother and me for the summer we will both appreciate it. Only this morning she said she wished she lived within an hour's ride from town. She would be delighted with the place."

"Weeds and all?" Bob asked with a slight laugh. "I think you could find a more desirable place to spend the summer months."

"Of course it will require time to make it look as it should," Gray answered, "but Jane will make it home before then and you two will benefit by such outdoor exercise as will put the yard in order. I venture you will not know the place by the end of June. I grant it is not desirable for you to give up your positions just yet, and if you feel you cannot take care of the land I shall be glad to lease it of you."

Jack was looking frowningly through a back window at the evidences of an old-fashioned garden. He turned now. "You can have the land, of course, if you wish. Our living here is impossible."

"Before you decide, look well at Jane," the other said quietly. "The girl is in desperate need of the very things she can get on this old farm. You can take no risks with her. Try it this summer at least. Give her the chance to get strong."

The three were watching the girl as she moved here and there among the old flower borders. She looked up and called to them delightedly.

"Lilies of the valley are blooming."

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

MISS JUANITA HANSEN'S wonderful photographic quality and her natural talent, plus an irresistible sense of humor, soon pushed her automatically out of the class of the extras, where she started, into small parts, and finally into stardom. She is a brilliant and successful exponent of naturalness on the screen, as she dislikes affectation in everything, and everybody, whether actors or not. If you insist upon it, the new Fox actress will tell you that naturalness has been the secret of her success.

Although born in Des Moines, Ia., Miss Hansen's parents seemed to know that the child was destined for filmland, as they moved promptly to Los Angeles. In the high schools of the California city, the girl made reputations as a stellar basket ball player, and as an amateur actress.

Miss Hansen can smash all records at dancing and driving an automobile; she is an adept at canoeing, and rarely stays out of the surf because it is too rough.

SOME SALARIES, THESE

Henry Miller, according to present inside studio gossip, has been offered $1,000 a day by Herbert Brennon to pose before the camera in a big feature Brennon now has under contemplation.

Brennon is understood to have contracted to pay Alla Nazimova $30,000 outright for her work in "War Brides", which she is now making under his direction. This picture is expected to be released November 6.

Word from London recently was to the effect that this same enterprising Mr. Brennon has forwarded Ethel Levey an offer of $1,500 a week to appear as a film star. She is said to have replied that she would consider $2,500 weekly.

RUTH GETS BREAKFAST

Ruth Roland, in addition to being a good actress and a clever and beautiful girl, is very domestic. Wouldn't you call an actress who gets up at 10:30 on Sunday mornings and gets her own breakfast, domestic?

What does she eat? Cantaloupe, hot cakes and home-made grape jelly, bacon, crisp, if you please, and he could no longer keep back words that for months had been clamoring for utterance. The girl was almost herself once more and she was telling him about her garden.

"John," she was saying, "it is a veritable treasure trove. Every day I find something new coming out of the ground. When your mother arrives the late roses will be a blaze of color and so many other plants are showing buds. I—"

But he interrupted her.

"Jane," he said simply, "I love you dearly. Have you a thought for me?"

She answered as simply as he had spoken.

"I think, John, I have loved you all my life, but I was not sure until—"

"Until?"

NEARLY RID OF PLAGUE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.— With the expected lifting of the quarantine on Gordon Rossler, 25, within a few days, Milwaukee will be rid of infantile paralysis. Health Commissioner Ruhland announced Thursday.TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD
NOISESIf you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness of head noises should give this prescription a trial.

DOUBLE PIKE TO FEATURE MIDWAY AT LOCAL FAIR

Concessions Too Many to Be Handled in a Single Street of "Pike" at Local Exhibition

EXHIBITS OVERFLOW

Hog and Cattle Shows Will Probably Use Tents to Eke Out Enough QuartersThe 1916 Inter-State fair is going to be the biggest fair La Crosse has ever seen.This is assured by Secretary C. S.
Van Auker, who returned Thursday from a trip which included several of the large fairs of Wisconsin. Mr.
Van Auker and his assistants have visited more than twenty of the larger fairs of the Northwest, including the state fairs of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and have engaged attractions which give promise of outdoing all fairs here in the past.

Two Midway Streets

The fair grounds will have two distinct "midways." Superintendent of Concessions C. A. Hunt, is expecting to break all records for his department, and the result is that on Thursday it was decided to split the pike into two sections, or streets.
Concessions will be placed in the middle of the promenade and the crowds will visit them from two sides.Livestock and hog exhibits promise to overflow their quarters on the fair grounds. Much livestock is already on the grounds. New hog sheds, capable of accommodating 150 animals, has been erected, but it is expected that it will be necessary to pitch tents. It is also expected that some cattle exhibits will be forced to show in tents.The automobile show of local dealers will be much larger than the 1915 show, the dealers predict and they are requesting the fair association officials for an additional tent for the overflow.

Famous Horses Coming

Hatchford's society horses, a "pike" attraction seen at some of the largest fairs in the United States this year, and called "Intelligent equine wonders," will form one of the biggest Midway features. Miss Helen Hatchford, the trainer of the troop of horses, will be in charge of the exhibition.The Heth United shows will furnish the bulk of the midway attractions. The amusement company will arrive in La Crosse on a special train of twenty cars on Sunday.
Among the Heth shows will be The Hawaiian Brothers, Big Arena, The Hawaiian theater, Francis Ten-One, The Gaiety Girls, and the Submarine.USE REAL THEATER AS "SET" IN MOVIEOn the night of May 2nd, Pathe got over a new stunt at the Republic theater, New York, with the assistance of A. H. Woods, the theatrical producer.As soon as the curtain was rung down at 11 o'clock on "Common Clay," Producer Fitzmaurice with his players and many extras came in and took possession of the theater. Special lights were installed and some twenty scenes taken in jig time. The use of a big theater as a motion picture set is a new scheme, and proved to be a very effective one. In order to carry out the realism the floor of the theater was crowded with extras and friends of various Pathe officials. Mr. Woods himself was present and gave many valuable hints as to detail. The picture is "New York," an adaptation of one of Mr. Woods' theatrical productions. "New York" is shown at the Casino today.

"Goodnight Corns! We Use 'Gets-It!'"

3 Drops in 2 Seconds, That's All.
"GETS-IT!" Does the Rest, Never Fails"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it?
"GETS-IT!" is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comes off. Millions use nothing else.""GETS-IT!" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.The Germans are attempting to capture the new monster to learn the secrets of its construction, planning to put "tanks" of their own in operation. The British have repelled every German attack.

BRITISH "TANK" BECOMES A PRIZE OF THE GERMANS

LONDON, Sept. 21.—One of the new British "tanks" toppled over on its side in the Bouleaux wood northwest of Comblès and has become the prize for which German and British detachments are engaged in spirited fighting.The disabled "tank" lies midway between German and British lines.

Soon Fell Out.

"So you have been camping with a party of friends?" "Well," replied the man who tries to speak the truth and nothing but the truth, "we were all amiable enough when we started, but I can't say we were a party of friends when we got back home."

BLACKMAIL LIST DESTROYED AND VICTIMS REJOICE

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Many prominent Chicago men and women are breathing easier than they have for some weeks following the confiscation of a card index case used by the blackmailers, some of whom are supposed to be under arrest here.At least twenty names were listed and opposite each was a note of some misconduct which the syndicate hoped to use for extortion," said a detective here Thursday who worked on the case.Evidence of the syndicate's operations continue to pile up here. A wealthy machinery manufacturer is known to have become infatuated with a woman in a cafe. As the romance waned, the woman told him she was ill and suggested he send her to the mountains and give her $100,000."If you do not see the justice of this, perhaps your wife will," she wrote him in answer to his objections.

"UNDER COVER" IS SMUGGLING TALE

When Roi Cooper Mearns' phe-nomenally clever drama, "Under Cover," filled the Cort theater in New York, month after month, the production attracted the attention of the Famous Players Film company because of its unquestioned popular appeal.The Famous Players were quick to obtain the screen rights for "Under Cover," which is to be the Paramount picture at the Bijou theater with Hazel Dawn and Owen Moore in the stellar roles.This is the first time that Miss Dawn and Mr. Moore have appeared on the screen together, though both have gained world-wide reputations for themselves by their work in former productions by the same company. "Under Cover" is a tale of the United States customs, of international smuggling, and of a trap into which a grafting official was led with the assistance of the very girl whom he tried to force to help him against the man she loved.The action takes place in Paris, on shipboard, in the customs house, and at a beautiful Long Island country estate—a fact which gives Robert G.
Vignola, the director, many opportunities for picturesque settings for his absorbing production.At the Bijou Friday and Saturday of this week.

HUGHES AFTER INDIANA VOTERS

BY PERRY ARNOLD

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 21.— Nominee Hughes started pursuit of Indiana's electoral votes Thursday in the most "whirlwind" campaign trip the Hoosier state has ever witnessed from a presidential candidate.For the next three days the republican aspirant for executive honors will criss-cross the state, preaching the doctrine of a republican tariff for protection and assailing democrats for failure to keep their promises.To Indiana voters Hughes expects to appeal for the most part on the democratic tariff and business record.

RAISE FOR NEIGHBORS

pealeau and Monroe Counties; Raise in State

(Special to The Tribune.)

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 21.—All property in La Crosse county is valued at $44,650,525 according to the state assessment announced by the state tax commission today. Last year the state assessment fixed the value of property in La Crosse county at $44,817,772.The real estate in La Crosse county is assessed by the commission today at $24,708,656 as compared with $23,040,602 last year. The personal property is assessed this year at $9, 941,839 as compared with $11,777, 170 last year.The total value of all property in Trempealeau county is $29,280,620 as compared with $28,808,274 last year. All property in Monroe county is assessed at $34,090,703 as compared with $32,509,468 last year.

Millions More in State

The state tax commission today announced that the state assessment of all property in the state was $2, 126,797,220. This is an increase of $197,065,812 over the state assessment last year. In 1915 the commission assessed all property at $2,299, 731,408.In the state assessment announced Thursday real estate of the state is assessed at $2,819,280,745 as compared with $2,702,982,000 last year.
This year the personal property is assessed at $607,516,875 as compared with $545,749,403.The largest assessment of all property is made against the city and county of Milwaukee, where the real estate is valued by the commission today at $518,130,410 and the personal property at $139,567,957, making the total assessment of all property $657,698,367 as compared with the total assessment of all property in Milwaukee city and county last year of $622,610,504.

Rise of Mill Taxes

The state assessment is the basis upon which the present seven-tenths mill tax for common school purposes and the two-sevenths mill tax for the university school fund are levied against the county in the distribution of the school fund is founded.Each county has a direct interest in a just and accurate state assessment of every county in the state. The importance of the state assessment is further emphasized by the fact that the rate of taxation to be applied to railroads and other corporations, assessed and levied directly by the state, is determined by the valuation placed on the general property of the state by the tax commission. This rate is ascertained by dividing the aggregate of all taxes for all purposes, state, county and local (except poll taxes and special assessments) by the aggregate valuation of all the general property of the state as fixed by the commission. The statute placing the state assessment in the hands of the tax commission became effective in 1901. That year the assessment of all property was $1,436,

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars in any case that it fails

REAL PREPAREDNESS MEANS GIVING ALL A CHANCE—PINCHOT

Amos Pinchot.

Real preparedness must strike at the influences which make some men slothfully rich and others hopelessly poor, in the opinion of a group headed by Amos Pinchot and including such names as Frank P. They advocate taxation to break up a monopoly of natural resources, the untaxing of improvements, social insurance against accident and old age, progressive inheritance and income taxes for federal purposes.

PARK BOARD WILL ASK TWO-YEAR FUND FOR NEW BUILDING

Unwilling to scale down the estimate on the building by eliminating features which they regard as essential, the park commission probably will ask the city council to spread the cost of the proposed community building in the West avenue playfield over a period of two years, it was said Thursday at the office of the park department. The commission will suggest that half of the $4,600 estimated cost of the building be appropriated in the budget this fall, and the remainder next year.

By this means, it is hoped, the construction of the building can be started. By the time the building is finished, the second part of the appropriation would be available, it is thought.

The building, of substantial and permanent construction, met with opposition from the finance committee at a recent meeting with the park commission. The treasury guardians of the council were reluctant to recommend the entire appropriation because of large demands on the city resources. At that time the commission agreed to go over the plans with a view to slicing the cost, but found that it could not be done without sacrificing things the board regards as essential, it is said.

CONTROVERSY OVER LANESBORO DAM IS SETTLED AMICABLY

Village Will Raise Dam Two Feet; Railroad Withdraws Objections Which Have Been Center of Mixup

LANESBORO, Minn.—(Special).—What at first threatened to entail numerous legal complications, in the matter of raising the dam at this place, has now been settled amicably.

The condition of the dam has caused apprehension for some time, but when the Milwaukee road found that it was to be raised, notice was served upon the town authorities that the town would be held responsible for any damage resulting from such a move, should any damage result to the roadbed from the work contemplated.

The sum of $3,000 was also insisted upon to defray expenses in making the necessary changes caused by the raising of the dam.

Complete investigation of the records has established the fact, however, that the village has the right to raise the dam two feet and the railroad has dropped its opposition to the work. The change will be made this fall and it is expected to have it completed before cold weather.

STRIKE ULTIMATUM REACHES LAST DAY VIOLENCE SPREAD

Union Leaders Prepared to Call Sympathetic Strike if Demands Are Not Satisfied

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—New York's protracted traction strike situation approached a crisis Thursday. The last day which labor leaders have allotted the officials of the traction companies to accept the proposals of Mayor Mitchell for further negotiations was ushered in with increasing violence and with no sign of wavering by either side.

Unless their demands are granted, union organizers are prepared to call Friday for the greatest walkout in the history of the city, a sympathetic strike of five hundred thousand union workers.

President Shonts of the Interborough announced Thursday the position of the company "will not be altered under any circumstances." Organizer Fitzgerald declared that "unless the car men's grievances are adjusted a general strike will certainly be called Friday."

Crowds of strikers and sympathizers are growing more difficult to handle as the crisis in the situation draws near. Five hundred strikers and their sympathizers engaged in a running battle with the police in Central park west Wednesday night in the worst outbreak since the strike began. A police captain was knocked unconscious and an aged woman seriously hurt.

The police department on Thursday united with the district attorney's office and the magistrate's courts in a determined effort to stamp out rioting. Long term sentences have been threatened and more than a score now face terms from five to twenty years.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has not come out flatly in favor of the sympathetic strike, for which other leaders are preparing today.

The citizens' committee of seventy-five was to confer with the mayor and Oscar Straus, chairman of the public service commission at three o'clock Thursday, in a last effort to bring about a settlement of some sort.

The strikers are said to have enlisted ten thousand women pickets who will attempt to urge union men and women not to ride on the transit lines of the city.

Service was again normal on the subway and elevated lines and more surface cars than usual were running early in the day.

Americanism Is Key Of Hughes' Milwaukee Talk

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.—With a sermon on Americanism and an attack on alleged inefficiency of the administration, Charles Evans Hughes, republican nominee for the presidency, on Wednesday night addressed what he admitted to be the greatest crowd assembled in a hall to hear him on his campaign tours. Thousands stood outside the Auditorium, where he spoke, unable to gain entrance. The reception accorded the candidate was probably as spirited as he has encountered on his two tours in the interests of his election.

The crowd was estimated at 40,000. That the business solidity of the nation is the result of years of republican effort, and in no way attributable to the administration was the declaration of Hughes. American rights on land and sea should be protected and enforced, he said, and continued.

"I propose that we shall enforce American rights on land and sea, without fear and unflinchingly with respect to American property and American commerce. We have no intrigues, we have no unstated purposes, we have no covert designs or arrangements. We stand foursquare to the world, representing the United States and its interests, and its interests alone; first, last and all the time."

"We propose that we shall protect American industries. We propose that we shall do it by a tariff wisely framed in knowledge of the facts, to afford the protection that is needed by honest American enterprise. We are at a time in the history of the world when economic problems will press for solution as never before. There is not the slightest doubt that in every nation abroad there is greater ability today for production than ever before. Every one of the belligerent nations is disciplined, trained, highly organized, developed. They know themselves; they have a capacity for co-operation; they have a wonderful training in a terrific struggle. They are disciplined to a man. Their resources are card indexed; there is nothing about themselves they do not know. There will come a time when the United States must face commercial rivalry and our governmental powers must be wisely used to check abuses on the one hand; but, on the other, to open wide the doors for every honorable American business. We need to build up."

MINDORO PLAGUE NOT A DANGER TO HEALTH OF CITY

Little Danger of Infection Reaching La Crosse Says Dr. Furstman

In the belief that the presence of two cases of infantile paralysis in the Town of Farmington presents no danger to the City of La Crosse, the city health department Thursday announced that no action in regard to the county cases is contemplated. The two cases are both under quarantine. There is little danger of the infection traveling from the Mindoro neighborhood to the city, Dr. J. M. Furstman, health commissioner, said. Unless requested by the state department of health, the commissioner will not investigate the cases.

School Authorities Responsible MADISON, Wis., Sept. 21.—With nearly 500,000 children entering school throughout Wisconsin this month, and infantile paralysis, diphtheria and other dangerous maladies prevalent in many sections, school authorities are by law made responsible for safeguarding pupils from communicable diseases.

According to law, teachers, school authorities and health officers must not permit the attendance at school of any child afflicted with a severe cough, a severe cold, a fever or other vermin, or any contagious skin disease, or of anyone who has any of the dangerous, contagious or infectious diseases. Teachers are required to send home all pupils who are obviously sick even if the ailment is unknown, and the parents and local health officer must be promptly notified.

Teachers or pupils coming from homes where contagious disease exists are not allowed to attend school. On account of the close association of children, schools are often ideal places for the transmission of communicable diseases. Teachers are in a position, through constant watchfulness, to detect the presence of infection, so that much sickness and many deaths may be avoided.

Some suggestions to teachers contained in the bulletin of the state board of health on the sanitary care of schools follow:

"When diphtheria or scarlet fever is present in the community, all children with sore throats or discharging noses or ears should be excluded from school, and no child returning to school, after an attack, with discharging nose or ears or without a permit from the health officer should be allowed to remain."

"When measles is present in the community, all children showing symptoms of a marked cold in the head should be immediately excluded from school."

Children or teachers who have been exposed to dangerous communicable disease are not allowed to attend school. Exceptions are when the exposure is to tuberculosis or typhoid fever.

The infantile paralysis record in this state continued to climb Thursday with reports of eleven new cases, widely scattered. Four were reported from Galesville, two from Galloway (Marathon county) and one each from Plymouth, Sheboygan, Cornell, Walworth and Waukegan county. This makes a total since July 1 of 274 cases in the state.

SOLDIERS, TIRED OF HIKE, DESERT BUT THEY LAND IN JAIL

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 21.—Eleven enlisted men of the Twelfth provisional division, tiring of the hike from San Antonio to Austin, deserted the column at Hunter and came to this city on a freight train, arriving Wednesday night. They were arrested by recruiting officers here and placed in jail. During the night one of the soldiers became ill and was removed to a hospital. The others were sent back to Fort Sam Houston Thursday.

REVIVE INDIAN FESTIVAL SAN JACINTO, Cal., Sept. 21.—Big Chiefs and Little Squaws and Tiny Papposes trekked through here in crowds Thursday from all over Southern California, on their way to the Saboba Indian Festival on the reservation a few miles from the city.

One Sam banned the festival last year because of the gambling that made trouble the year before.

How to Judge a Woman by Her Hair

There are always the well-known and semi-humorous methods, such as saying brunettes are quick-tempered. But there is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge a woman's neatness. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water when your shampoo is all ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

SYNOD CHURCH TO CELEBRATE ITS 25TH BIRTHDAY

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the English Evangelical Lutheran Synod of the Northwest will be celebrated next Sunday morning in the Holy Trinity Lutheran church, West avenue and Ferry street, Rev. J. J. S. Rumbarger, pastor.

This synod was called into existence by the necessity of work in the English language in the Lutheran church in the northwest. It was organized in Memorial church St. Paul, September 23, 1901, six congregations and seven pastors entering into the organization. The territory includes Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and Wisconsin. Marked progress has been made in the last fifteen years, notably in the Twin Cities and Milwaukee.

TAFT DECLARES HE WOULD HAVE GIVEN HUERTA RECOGNITION

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 21.—President Taft would have recognized Huerta had he continued in office, he declared in a copyrighted article in the October issue of Yale Review. He only abstained he said, because President Wilson's inauguration followed Huerta's accession to the presidency of Mexico by but eleven days and he did not want to embarrass his successor.

Taft also attacked President Wilson's handling of the Lusitania question on the grounds that he exposed the country to charges of "weakness and vacillation." The appointment of William J. Bryan as secretary of state furnished a clue to the record of mistakes of the Wilson administration, he said.

ODDS HOLD NO TERROR

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—"The alleged betting odds on Wall street do not disturb me. The Wall street gambler three months ago was betting that Roosevelt would get the republican nomination."

This was the message received Thursday by Democratic Chairman McCormick from Frank Doremus, congressman from Michigan and chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee.

As a consequence of this belief Dr. Wilbur decreed that beginning this year autos may not be owned by students; that too frequent dances, the purchase of expensive flowers for co-eds and similar luxuries will be banned.

Stanford does not particularly seek poor boys and discourage the entrance of the wealthy, Dr. Wilbur explains, but experience has shown that the poor boy has, on the whole made a better record, both as a student and afterwards. His appeal, Dr. Wilbur says, is an endeavor to save the wealthy lad from his own particular dangers.

MILITIA AND REGULARS MARCH IN REVIEW IN GREAT ARMY PAGEANT

BY WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent) EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 21.—In a column twenty miles in length, national guardsmen and regular soldiers marched through the city and passed the reviewing stand at Fort Bliss for seven hours Thursday in the biggest infantry division review ever held in this country. More than twenty-six thousand men, marching four abreast, comprised the column. The reviewing stand were Major General Charles M. Clement, General George Bell, Jr., and their staffs.

From early morning until afternoon the lines swung steadily through the streets of El Paso and six miles beyond the city to the reviewing stands at Fort Bliss, to the music of thirteen bands.

For hours a solid line of the famous four point seven artillery lumbered through the crowds. Then followed engineers, sanitary trains and signal corps, all with full war equipment. There were a thousand wagons and motor trucks and eight thousand horses and mules in the parade. At noon the lines halted while the men ate their lunches by the roadside.

In making up the division, one brigade of Massachusetts and Michigan state troops were used, one brigade of Kentucky and South Carolina and one brigade of Pennsylvania and Ohio guardsmen. The remainder of the division was composed of regulars.

WORMS AND BAIT

My Dear Buck:

The original bait that has tickled the palate of all kinds of fish since the first open season in the Garden of Eden has caused more of them to grace the frying pan than any other lure of the thousands in use, is the common old worm. Called by some the angleworm, by others, the fish-worm, and knighted as the greatest bait ever, by the happy, bare-legged, knee-pants and/or of the Order of the Long Cane Pole.

This little old worm bait has never received as much credit as it should, probably because its value as a bait has been in a way overlooked in the mad rush for the multicolored and wonderfully shaped artificials that have made bait-casting the most popular end of the sport. Then, again, the fact that the fly-fisherman generally tilts the nose skyward when the worm is as much as mentioned, has sort of given it a black eye with the beginner, who, above all things, hates to have the experienced angler think for a minute that he is a tyro at the game. And at that, old scout, it is no kid's trick to land the wily trout when the waters are low and clear during July, even with the assistance of the lowly worm.

A Still-Fishing Winner

As a still-fishing winner bait for all kinds of fish the worm stands at the head of the class and he can wiggle into the affections of the finny tribe when many other baits don't even get a glance. Whether it is the fascinating wiggle of the head and tail of the worm, which should be hooked through the body a couple of times with the ends free, or the delicious flavor of this choice bit of fish food that makes it so popular, is a question that can only be settled by the fish, but it is a sure enough fact that they take to worms like a duck to water.

Four of a Kind

One big point in favor of the worm is that it can be found in good numbers almost anywhere. A few turns of the earth with a spade give you enough bait for an afternoon's fishing. Four species of worms are probably the most useful in fishing, the black-headed worm without the head or knot-like ring around the body a little above the middle, and a flatter looking worm which is found under old manure heaps and such places. This worm is softer and does not make as good bait as the black-headed worm. The marsh worm, which has a whitish ring, and is a pale blue in color and is found under stones and among decayed leaves and under rotted logs. The red-headed worm is found in rich earth near manure heaps and is quite thick in proportion to its length. It is dark red, and owing to the fact that it loses its color after being in the water a short time, is not as good for bait as the others.

Clean and Feed 'Em

When worms are full of earth and until they are cleaned, do not make the best bait. A fish likes the pink color of the cleaned worm, and it is a simple matter to doctor them into first class fish food. As soon as they are dug out of their home grounds they should be washed well with water. Put them in a panful of water and stir them around with the finger, but don't crush them or shake roughly, then place them in an earth-

AUTUMN HANDICAP QUALIFYING ROUND PLAYED SATURDAY

Popular Event on Local Links to Be Staged, Finals to Be Reached on Following Saturday

La Crosse golfers anticipate play in the annual Autumn Handicap, the qualifying round of which is to be played off Saturday. Thirty-two people will qualify, play to progress to the finals on the Saturday following.

The Autumn Handicap is one of the most popular events at the Country Club. The entry list to the qualifying round is as a rule larger than in any other event staged on the local links. Scores of the year are the basis of handicapping, the poorest player of the club having an equal chance with the scratch men. A handsome silver trophy, offered by the club, becomes the permanent possession of the winner of the event.

FIGHTING ABILITY AND NOT NAMES TO GOVERN LOCAL MEET

"The Monday night boxing show will not be a match of big-time stars," says H. A. Lee, secretary of the local athletic club, "but it is going to be full of pep from start to finish." That, in a few words, summarizes the stand of the local promoters, who are striving to eliminate reputations in their boxing shows in preference to entertainment, whenever it is necessary.

That the meet will decide the fate of boxing in La Crosse is openly admitted by club members. The license of the club expires October 15. If the Monday show is a success, it is advanced the club may reorganize under a different name, probably the La Crosse Athletic club. Failure will mean disbanding of the organization.

Reports to promoters indicate the principals of the coming fights in top notch condition. It is impossible under new laws, promoters say, for a boxer to enter the ring physically unfit. Club physicians are instructed to make exhaustive examinations of fighters before they can go through the ropes.

Look out for flat places; often this can only be discovered by rolling between the fingers. A flat spot means a weak leader. For hardness of the leader, test it by biting on it.

Question—Do you find both the small-mouth and large-mouth bass in the same lakes? F. S. Answer—Not as a general thing; when you do, the small-mouth will be found on the rocky, near the spring holes at the outlet or inlet. If there is a little current there, on the gravel bars, while the large-mouth prefers the weedy bays, the lily pads and rushes and where the bottom is soft.

Jimmy Walsh.

Though Connie Mack still wallows in the slough of Despond the luck of the players he made famous continues. The latest instance is the case of Outfielder Jimmy Walsh, who has been transferred to the Boston Red Sox in payment for Catcher Pat Haley and thus gets in line for a chance at more world's series gold and glory.

LOCAL FOOTBALL SEASON IS OPENED IN EARNEST AT TWO INSTITUTIONS

FIRST SCRIMMAGE IS HELD AT HIGH UNDER COACH BELL

Seconds Put Up Strong Defense and Hold Cream of Last Year's Back-field

The first scrimmage of the season was held Wednesday afternoon on High School field. After a lengthy signal practice the firsts under Coach Bell lined up against Coach Schaffer's seconds. The firsts started with the following men: Ends, Regal and Argall; tackles, R. Blatter and L. Blatter; guards, Youngberg and Bleakly; center, Bunge; quarterback, Feinberg; halfbacks, Pratt and Layman; fullback, Captain Spettie.

The most surprising feature of the scrimmage was the wonderful defense put up by the scrubs considering the fact it was their first meeting of the season. They stopped the cream of last year's backfield as easily as they did the new plungers.

These changes did not improve the offense and the amount of ground gained was negligible.

NORMAL COACHES HAVE MEN OUT IN FIRST APPEARANCE

Grausnick, Miller, Roellig and Kulcynski Among Men to Show Up for Practice

With the first appearances of the normal cohorts on the gridiron Wednesday chances for a team of high calibre appeared considerably brighter but the heavy loss sustained over the summer recess will be hard to make up. The real work-outs are not expected to begin until next Monday when the four coaches will be on the job. This week Speth and Keeler alone are handling the squad of about thirty men who will compete for regular berths. Thus far Grausnick and Miller are the only men to show up from last year's team but it is expected that others will be on the field by next Monday. As yet, Captain Feinberg has not carried out his statement that he would be back to school but he is expected to put in an appearance soon.

Kulcynski and Roellig of last year's championship high school team were on the field for work Wednesday night. "Nobby" Bott, star line-man on Horne's team for the past two years, is also enrolled at the school but it is not known whether his work outside of school will permit his practicing daily with the team.

Of the new men there are many possibilities but the new material lacks the experience vital to the making of a good player. However, with McCormick, Bogda, Chambers and men of similar caliber Keeler may be able to develop a line able to clear the way for some of the fast backs. The men have been somewhat hampered in their work for lack of football clothing but new apparel is expected daily. Instead of the usual maroon jerseys the men this year will be clad in gray suits with black stripes circling the arms.

THE RUSH FOR FARMS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—

The Fourth of July of this year found several hundred strangers in Spokane. The hotels were crowded, the garages were filled and the restaurants and moving picture shows were overwhelmed with business. Through-out the day and all the next morning each incoming train brought more people—men and women of all stations and descriptions, from well-groomed lawyers to dusty farm hands and demure young schoolmarm. From the surrounding districts they came, and many from as far east as Wisconsin and Idaho. These visitors were not attracted to Spokane by the fame of its Fourth of July celebrations, for Spokane, while patriotic, is usually modest in affairs of that kind. They were there to make their applications for land on the diminished Colville Indian reservation which was opened up for settlement by the government on the fifth of July.

Every time the government opens up a reservation there is a tremendous rush for registration. In the case of the Colville land, Spokane was only one of six towns that were overrun with ambitious citizens who wanted to take a chance on a government farm, there being registration booths in Wenatchee, Omak, Republic, Wilbur and the town of Colville, also.

The Colville reservation is a large tract of land in the northeastern part of the state of Washington, comprising in all 1,300,000 acres. The best agricultural tracts have been allotted by the government to 2,600 Indians, and other big portions have been set aside as containing timber and minerals. The remaining land, which embraces about 350,000 acres, is classified by the government as follows: "Some is rough and mountainous and not desirable for agricultural use; some is valuable for cultivation to crops; and some may be valuable for stock raising only." From this it would appear that the homesteader who undertook to make good on a Colville claim would be up against a rather uncertain proposition, yet over ninety thousand people filed applications for claims at the registration booths.

There were many prosperous individuals among this ninety thousand, however, to whom the Colville land was not a serious matter, but who could not resist the temptation to take part in a lottery. One woman, for example, admitted that she hoped she drew a farm, but she did not know what under the sun she would do with it. Others were quite sure what they would do with theirs, and anxiously waited the outcome of the drawing.

The method used by the government in apportioning the land of the Colville reservation is considered the best that has yet been evolved. Originally, when the United States was a vast wilderness, people took what ever land they wanted and held it by right of possession, but as the population increased and the wilderness grew into towns and cities the staking of claims became a hazardous matter, often resulting in bloodshed and bitter feuds. Finally, in the later eighties, the country had become so oversettled that people were camping on the border of the forbidden prairies of Oklahoma and clamoring for admission. Congress decided to open up this land to the settlers, but in order to be perfectly fair, no one was allowed to enter until the specified day, at the risk of forfeiting his land. When it came, thousands of settlers raced over the border in a furious effort to stake their lands and get back to the government agents. Unfortunately, the results of this free-for-all race were very discouraging to the land department, which even now is occasionally troubled with one of these first Oklahoma claims. Invariably the best land went to the man with the strongest arm or the fastest horse, who usually was able to convince the agents that he was right.

Now whatever real estate business Uncle Sam undertakes is conducted in an orderly manner. Even women are perfectly safe in homesteading claims except in moving picture scenarios. The present method, as employed in the Colville Indian reservation opening, is in the nature of a big lottery, and so far as the government officials can ascertain it is absolutely fair. The government first announced it was going to open up this surplus land and proceeded to establish its registration booths. At noon on the fifth of July the first booth was opened in Spokane before a crowd of resolute homesteaders, who entered one by one through a turnstile. Each man and woman made out his or her application and swore to it before the notary in charge, and sufficient time was taken with each application to insure the accuracy of all the details. Scales and a measuring device were used in all cases where the individuals were not certain about their weight or height. This precaution is taken as a means of identifying the applicant. In the past it often happened that a man would go to all the trouble of registering for a claim and be fortunate enough to win one, only to have it claimed by another man of the same name. The application completed, the man paid his twenty-five cent notary fee, and the documents were put into a long narrow envelope just like thousands of others.

Two great difficulties were encountered by the notaries in the Spokane booths; one was that the majority of the women applicants were extremely diffident about telling their real age, while the men brought their wives along and tried to get two applications through, when the law specifically denies the homesteader privilege to all married women who can not prove that they have to support their families. One woman was disappointed to the point of tears, and said that if her marriage was going to interfere with a Colville farm she would get a divorce before the last day of registration.

When the registration was over on the twenty-second of July, the proceeds of the registration were divided equally among the one hundred notaries who had given their services. In the past when public lands were opened up for settlement every notary in the registration towns competed with every other notary for the business of swearing in the applicants, which competition was often responsible for serious mistakes in the documents. In his hurry to take care of a large number of people, a notary would often leave out some of the most important details in an application, thereby causing its owner a great deal of unnecessary trouble. They tell a story in Spokane about an Idaho notary, who cleverly arranged to have his booth placed adjacent to the railroad station in his town, thus capturing all of the incoming trade. One morning he woke up to find his whole office covered with pitch and tar so that no one could possibly enter it. The perpetrators of this alleged joke were never absolutely known, but since then the government has eliminated the disturbing element of competition and formed all the notaries into an association with equal profits for all.

However, to return to the Spokane government lottery, after five days had elapsed the applications of all the ninety thousand from the six registration towns were carried in metal cans to the American theater in Spokane for the drawing. Before an assembled audience of about fifteen hundred people, the cans were emptied onto the stage and mixed all about by a couple of stage hands who used a miner's scoop and shovel. When thoroughly scattered, four little girls dressed in pink and white picked up the various envelopes and handed them to the mayor, who read aloud the names of the lucky homesteaders. The man to receive the right of first choice—whose application was the first to be picked up—was a laboring man of Spokane by the name of George Lennon. Many women were among the first one hundred winners.

from the floor of the stage, the rest were gathered up and carried to the Federal building where the drawing was resumed. Altogether, 5,500 names were drawn for less than 2,500 claims on the reservation. This was done because experience has shown that there are always many winners of prizes who fail to appear to claim them, in which event the choice of land goes to the next one on the list. After the last name had been read and posted on the bulletin boards and published in the newspapers, the government employees from the land office in Washington made a typewritten list of the names on all the applications in order to ascertain if there were any duplicates. There is, of course, nothing to prevent a man from registering in two towns or, for that matter, in two or three booths in one town, but when it is found out his application is disregarded.

In the meantime, a map of the reservation was on exhibition at Omak, where the winners went to select their land. The map was detailed, but it was suggested by the government officials that a trip to the reservation itself might be more satisfactory before making the first payment. The land was divided up into tracts of 160 acres and 320 acres, and the average price was $1.50 an acre, although in some cases it ran as low as 25 cents an acre.

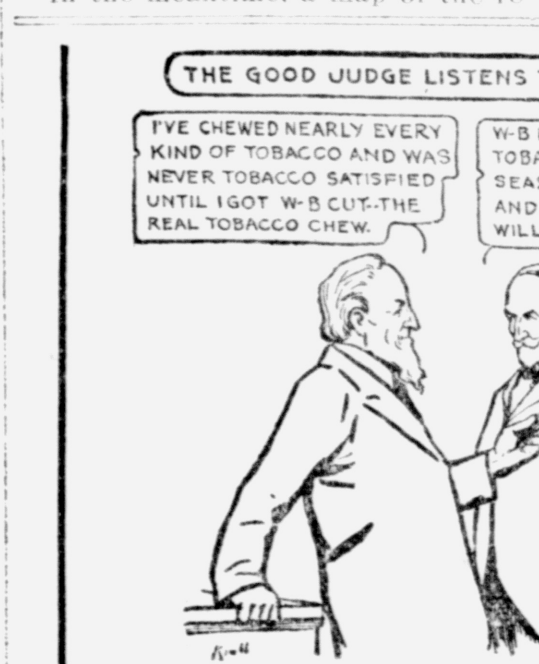

Thus the ordinary lottery method has finally solved the problem of the government in opening up its public lands and reservations. There is no more bloodshed over land claims, and even the losers are satisfied that they have not been cheated. In October the Fort Assiniboine, abandoned military reservation in Montana, will probably be opened for settlement and many people are eagerly awaiting the opportunity for registration.

THE GOOD JUDGE LISTENS TO MEN WHO KNOW SOMETHING.

I'VE CHEWED NEARLY EVERY KIND OF TOBACCO AND WAS NEVER SATISFIED UNTIL I GOT W-B CUT-THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

W-B IS QUALITY TOBACCO, CUT FINE, SEASONED WITH SALT, AND A SMALL CHEW WILL SATISFY.

MEN OF EXPERIENCE KNOW WHAT THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT.

HERE is the common sense way a W-B CUT user put it up to one of his friends:— "When it comes to tobacco satisfaction, that's got to be in the tobacco in the beginning. Molasses and licorice won't put it there. W-B CUT is rich tobacco and chock full of real tobacco satisfaction—excess sweetening has no charm for you once you know quality tobacco. And remember the other points—less grinding and spitting, and half-sized chews."

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

VERMONT AND NEW YORK REGIMENTS GO HOME REPLACED BY TENNESSEE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Second New York infantry and the First Vermont are to return to state mobilization camps. They will be replaced by the two Tennessee regiments recently ordered to the border. General Funston wired the war department Wednesday. Three regiments of the Pennsylvania division to be selected by the division commander will also return to their state mobilization camps and will be replaced by three regiments of North Carolina troops.

CALDER BEATS BACON

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—With returns still incomplete, the victory of William M. Calder over Robert F. Bacon in the state primary race for the republican nomination for United States senator, was generally conceded Thursday by a majority of approximately 6,500 to 7,000.

While returns from the progressive primaries are still slow in coming in, it is figured Governor Whitman carried the nomination of that party over Samuel Seabury, democratic nominee, by at least 2,200 votes.

The man who sits down and waits for something to turn up will succeed in time. His toes turn up.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE STARTS ON FRIDAY

Fifty delegates, Sunday school workers from all over the La Crosse sub-district of the Evangelical Association, will meet in the city Friday and Saturday for an annual Sunday school institute. Representatives are expected from churches as far distant as Eau Claire, Elroy and Northwalk. ## The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This dissolves it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is expensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

The program will be conducted under the direction of Rev. Jacob Hommel, La Crosse; Rev. G. J. Pfefferkorn, Elroy; Rev. H. P. Jordan, Northwalk; and Rev. F. W. Huebner, Eau Claire. The program follows:

Hello, Mr. Strong!

This is Paxton. I want to congratulate you on your appointment as General Manager of the works. You nearly missed it because the Board were afraid you were getting too old; but in the past few weeks you've seemed to grow younger, so they elected you on the first ballot. How do you do it?

Well, Paxton, I'll let you in on my secret. My hair was thin and gray—made me look 15 years older. I began using Dr. Cunningham's SAVITT—a wonderful hair tonic that stimulates the scalp and hair glands. This made my hair grow, stopped the dandruff and, best of all, made my hair take on its youthful color. I tell you there's no excuse for gray hair now when you can get Savitt. It's not a dye—works the same on red hair as on black and it's absolutely harmless, too. You'll thank me for telling you about it. Good bye!—Just a minute! The only store that sells Savitt is
